Class of '73

Our class has been noted for its hard working members. We have shown this by working toward a number of achieved goals. Just a few of these were our magazine campaign; the sophomore Christmas Dance, "Moonlight Sleighride"; the production of the Junior and Senior class plays, "The Boarding House Reach" and "The Red House Mystery"; "A Time for Us", our Junior-Senior Prom; and this year's Valentine Dance.

Of course, behind every great class there are leaders. Responsible for our accomplishments were, through the years, Mr. Shank, Mr. DeBiase, and Mr. Kirkwood. Finally, it is our wish to extend thanks to the class officers who were always there with their dedication.

activities

Assistant Editor Gary Gusmerotti and Editor-in-Chief Mark Sotosky are often deciding what will go into the 1973 CONNUMACH.

Connumach Staffs

The advisors for the CONNUMACH are Mr. Volk, Mr. Kososki, Mrs. Statler, and Miss Will.

These are the hard working Editors who guide their staffs in producing the 1973 CONNUMACH.

"Oh, Mr. Volk, tell us another." These girls collect the money and take orders for the yearbook. The advisor of the Business Staff is Mr. Volk. Mary Thompson is the Manager and her Assistant is Rena Pellizzari.

Contownian Staffs

"Finally a paper without mistakes." The efficient Editor-in-Chief Jolene Youhouse reviews the CONTOWNIAN with Mr. Paxton, the advisor.

"Next time get cherry flavored stamps." The Exchange Staff Editor Donna Telenko and Sandie Snyder make sure all papers are distributed to other schools.

The Senior Class of 1973 play cast created intrigue and suspense with their presentation of "The Red House Mystery."

Donna Kendera sang and played her guitar between acts in both the Junior and Senior Class Plays to the delight of all.

Student Directors for the Senior Class Play were Lisa Plowman and Janette Rullo. Lisa was also the Student Director for the Junior Class Play along with Jolene Youhouse as the other Student Director.

As Juniors, the Class of 1973 created an uproar with their presentation of "The Boarding House Reach."

"This is not my cup of tea."

"Who want to be my bridesmaids?"

"We have a Trig Test tomorrow."

Another success for the Class of '73 was the presentation of "The Red House Mystery," a three act mystery.

"See right there, made in Japan."

"Got any threes?" "Go fish!"

"You're getting warmer."

"Gee, you smell good."

The "Boarding House Reach", a three act comedy, was presented on Friday, March 11, 1972, to an audience that filled the auditorium. It was hailed as a success and was enjoyed by all who saw it.

"You've got a friend."

Our undefeated football team got us off to a super start on the way towards the Year of the Indian. The 1972 Mountain Conference Champs posted a perfect 9-0 season. It was the first undefeated team in almost two decades.

The team methodically knocked off opponent after opponent from North Star to Somerset. Our men were the best. The high power offense was unstoppable. Other teams tried and failed to crack our wall of a defense. Coaches proved to be an important fundamental in a winning season.

Yes, the football team started the 1972-73 year on the way to becoming The Year of the Indian.

The Cross Country Team had a disappointing season this year with a record of 1-11. Though the record doesn't indicate it, many of the meets were very close with just a few places deciding the win. Even though they didn't have such a good season, there was little doubt that they had the ability; they just couldn't put it all together.

The 1973 Varsity Cagers retained their winning form on the court by posting a 15-1 record to capture the Somerset County League Title. This year, our grapplers had a very successful season. Some of the highlights were wins over such rivals as Westmont, Vo-Tech, Chestnut Ridge, and a moral victory against North Star. Coming from last place the year before, the Indians moved all the way up to capture a fourth place in this year's Christmas Tournament. The season might not have been so bright without the help of the seniors that spearheaded the team. They're great guys, with great coaches, great fans, and a great season.
